Foreword

We are the Forty-Niners, proud to carry the name of those valiant people who braved the dangers of the West, one hundred years ago.

Plagued with thirst and starvation and in constant danger from Indian attacks, they were weakened but never defeated. With their hopes undaunted and their trust in God unwavering, they reached their goal.

These people were typified by their initiative, cooperative spirit, and courage. Such qualities, necessary in life as well as in school for success, have been emphasized in our high school work.

Generations have come and gone, bringing their new dreams and progress in the past hundred years.

Here are our "Memories" of the high school years of the new group of Forty-Niners, who, inspired by their predecessors, go forth to serve and build.

Dedication

In future years when we are well-experienced in the ways of life, only then will we be able to realize our debt of gratitude to the men and women who have been foremost in our lives, our parents.

May their splendid spirit of sacrifice be our inspiration through the years.

To those who have given their best, we dedicate our best, our most cherished possession, "Memories" of 1949.

Second row: D. Parks, A. M. Mahon, J. Hollis, M. Wood, M. Reardon, G. Nilan, B. Ebersole, R. Schweitzer.
Third row: E. Gorman, A. Roberts, H. McMillen, T. Muehlmann. Fourth row: B. Ketchledge, S. Holloway, J. Livingston, P. Parrish, G. Michener, D. Hipple, D. D'Onofrio, B. Peel, R. Worrell, N. Butler, J. Collins.

Fifth row, standing: J. Harris, J. Gausch, D. Tarleton, T. Newby, C. Broadbelt, G. Snyder, T. Tull, J. Mackey, J. MacLaren, R. Shupard, D. Ealy, F. Capotosto, C. Fletcher, H. Rambo, R. Young.

Let's Not Forget

We started in September
 As seniors did we return
 To take our seats in "Apples'" room,
 Supposedly to learn.

"That makes the vote unanimous,"
 President Ted would calmly roar;
 Then H. R. H. would counter,
 "That was forty-four to four."

We started off the year with zest
 With the Christmas Card campaign.
 Mr. Harvey let us have no rest
 Made us sell in snow and rain.

To the call of "Tally Boy"
 The senior boys came running,
 And when refreshment time came 'round,
 The girls were really cunning.

On the 29th of December
 Came the Senior Dance,
 Christmas trees and snowflakes
 Filled the air with sweet romance.

The Chicken Supper went off swell,
 The chicken good and savory.
 What did Al Roberts have to say
 When he sat down in the gravy?

New York came in the spring,
 With wondrous sighs the air did ring.
 Many things made up our days
 We spent our time in merry ways.

The 16th of June was our great day,
 When up the aisle we made our way.
 Our high school days are past, it's true,
 All that's left, dear Memories, is you.

ADMINISTRATION

GUIDANCE

School Board

An influential but seldom-heard-of body of men is the Marple-Newtown School Board.

This year much progress was made at monthly meetings. In co-operation with the Student Council, the School Board gave the former the authority to punish non-observance of bus conduct rules. The School Board financed new cheerleading uniforms. A committee now is studying the problem of a fence around the school and is planning to finance this project in the very near future.

The class of "49" take this opportunity to thank the School Board for its wonderful job in guiding us and working for our welfare.

Left to right: E. Ewing, J. Frederick, C. Russell, W. Loomis, F. Capotosto, W. Trowbridge, J. Scherr, J.

Gable, H. Forsythe, J. Worrall. (Mr. Thomas H. Darrah was not present.)

Principal's Message

A review of United States history will show that certain years are thrown into the high light by some events associated with them. The year 1849 belongs in this category, for it was at that time that the California gold rush took place.

The discovery of gold in the race of Sutter's mill caused thousands of people to rush madly to California by land and water. Many failed to reach their desired goal and either fell by the wayside or returned home. Yet others, by a display of dogged courage and grim determination, surmounted unbelievable odds and at last reached the gold fields.

We would like history to tell us that their persistence was rewarded with success but actually, for one successful seeker after goal, hundreds met with disappointment. Why? Simply because they were trying to beat the age-old rule that you get out of any enterprise only the results commensurate with the effort put into that enterprise. Too many seekers after wealth believed that they would gain it quickly and avoid long years of weary work. That is not the way of life.

The future showed where the real riches of California were located. They lay in her farms, orchards and forests whence man extracted them by hard but fruitful toil extending over a long period of time. The truth of this principle is very clear in its application to our life in school. If the athlete would only realize that victory depended as much upon a long build-up of hard practice and physical conditioning as upon brilliant performance during the game, our school would report a greater number of winning games. Positions on the honor-roll are gained by steady, hard application during study periods both at home and in school rather than in dependence upon showy performance during the recitation period.

We can all learn, then, from the lesson taught by the Forty-Niners that wealth or any worthy objective cannot be won by some quick method but only by long, earnest effort.

Class Will

The distinguished and glorious class of 1949, being of sound mind and memory, does admit and blushinglly confess that this creed is its last will and testament, to be carried out by all who shall in due humility follow it on the path of learning in Marple-Newtown High School.

To the School Board we leave our request that they build a new auditorium.

To the school we leave the benefit of our newly acquired wisdom in the following set of revised rules:

1. Classes shall be held on all the days of the week except those days whose names begin with M, T, W, F, and S.
2. Classes shall begin at 11:00 a. m. and end at 1:00 p. m.
3. The luncheon period shall extend over a two-hour interval.
4. At the beginning of the school year, the students shall explain to the teachers what and how they are expected to teach.

To the faculty we leave our heartfelt sympathy. Still, in the words of the poet, "It is better to have had us and lost us than never to have had us at all."

To the underclassmen who have the great honor of being our successors, we extend hearty congratulations from the bottom of our hearts, yes, even from the soles of our loafers.

To all the school activities in which we have participated we leave a grave doubt. Although they will probably not die altogether, we feel they will fall into a moribund state, but will, in the end, be saved by the underclassmen who will attempt to imitate our cleverness and skill.

There is another to whom we extend our sincerest thanks for friendship and guidance through our high school years—for it's not the school alone (we thank) but the principal of the thing.

Individually, we do hereby bequeath our worldly goods as follows:

Bob Snelling inherits from Don Tarleton one camera, and from Tom Tull, one million arguments.

Shirley Holloway leaves to Nancy Dutton her "way" with Mrs. Marlino.

To Joe Smith, Helen Ballaron leaves the ability to get good marks without studying. Of course Joe really doesn't need this.

"Ace" Hatton, although he really doesn't need it, is willed Al Roberts' great big laugh.

Betty Ketchledge leaves her bottle of "Moon-sheen" to Bessie Loomis, who will now have two bottles.

"That way with women" is left to Lee Holloway by George Snyder, with the advice to use it.

Gloria Nilan wills her flirty eyes to Joan Heavens.

Teddy Lamb inherits Ed Gorman's razor and all his second-hand blades—for future use.

Anna May Mahon leaves with pleasure her iodine and band-aids to Mary Ellen Jinkner.

To Johnny Parks, Connie Fletcher wills his bee-u-ti-ful curly hair.

Seniors to Be

This year's Junior Class can look back over a year of many successful activities. Carrying on the tradition, we selected our class rings early in the year and eagerly awaited their coming. Our next event was the Magazine Drive which netted us $665.13. The task of adding these funds went to Bob Nolan, who did a swell job.

The Juniors are justly proud of the large part they played in school athletics. They were represented in every sport, and the fellows won the intramural boys' basketball championship. Class meetings and other affairs rounded out our school year.

As a climax to the entire year, the Junior Prom was held on May 21. George Young and his orchestra provided fine music. The work of many committees and class enthusiasm made the dance an event to remember.

Sophomores Have Active Year

This year, we Sophomores really gained importance in M. N. Many of our members participated in sports, play, debating, orchestra, glee club, and other activities.

Our "Soph Hop" with Hal Moore from WCAU was a huge success.

We welcomed these new members to our class: David Mook, Larry Miller, George Cox, Allen Evans, Dick Hall, Marilyn Grant, Janet Haberland, Pat McDonough, Adele and Joan Vickers, Gloria Winterbottom, Bob Artman, Helen Buckley, and Victoria Battista.

This year was full of fun and happiness, and it will always live in our memory.

The Freshman Class

This year members of the Freshman class have participated in many school activities. Some of our members are in the Orchestra; some played football, hockey, basketball, baseball, and lacrosse. We, of the Freshman class, sponsored the Freshman Frolic on April 8. The decorating committee worked hard to make the dance one of the best of the year.

New members who joined our class are Lorraine Danby, Ken MacDonald, Harry Nash, Lois Lord, Esther Aharonian, Dot Evans, Emily Winterbottom, Bernice Schneider, and Regina Buckley.

The Eighth graders are very busy this year.

We contributed to the Red Cross and we are very proud to say we gave old Christmas cards to the Children's Heart Hospital.

Many of the Eighth graders participated in Junior High sports and Glee Club.

Nancy Fowle was our representative to the Student Council.

We elected presidents in our two classes. They are Caroline Kirk and Rickey Freeman in 8A and Fred Frame in 8B.

We welcomed several new pupils.

We have completed Eighth Grade and we are looking forward to our Freshman year.

In September 1948, the Seventh Graders entered Marple-Newtown High School with forty-eight students in the class.

Since then, Carol Braun, Ivy Vickers, Tom Moore, and Ronald Winterbottom have joined our loyal Seventh Graders.

The 7A's collect dues every week. Some of the money was used for a class Christmas party, which provided fun and refreshments for all.

Our first year in Marple-Newtown High School has been a big success.

"What good is the Student Council? It doesn't accomplish anything!" Student Council members have been subject to this attack many times and would like to show, at this time, their record of achievement.

In the field of athletics they first inaugurated a season ticket drive, then, with financial aid from the School Board, purchased new cheer-leading outfits for the girls. A new plan for awards to managers of athletic teams was put into effect. They made an extensive study of the need for fencing around the football field and presented the facts to the School Board, where it met with approval.

For the school, the Council purchased mirrors for the locker rooms, gave monitors new duties, systematized fire drills, and started a drive to keep lavatories spic and span.

They were given permission by the School Board to punish offenders of school bus rules and did so when necessary. For greater safety and efficiency, a plan was drawn up and carried out for school bus riders at Marple Grade School.

This year, again, the A.A. drive was sponsored. It brought in needed funds for our athletic teams. Solicitors were treated to free dinners.

Nina Butler, as president, did an excellent job; Mary Ellen Jinkner was vice-president; Barbara Peel, secretary; and Floyd Shaver, treasurer.

The "Mar-News" Has Face Lifted

Not because we are the first to have a school paper printed by a new method, but because it gives the news from our own classes and school, the "Mar-News" is the biggest little paper in our world.

Providing interesting reading about our friends and class-mates, presenting timely editorials, and supplying bits of choice gossip, the "Mar-News" can thank all the members of the staff for its popularity.

Quiet Summer Scores Hit

The rollicking comedy, "Quiet Summer," proved a hilarious hit largely because of the magnificent characterization of the bachelor lawyer, James Clark, by Lee Holloway, who was ably supported by Gloria Nilan as Helen Russell—the bachelor lawyer's secretary. The bachelor's sister's children, charming Pamela and Sonny Young, not only ruined Uncle's social prospects, but with complete abandon and probable ruin took charge of Uncle's club, political career, and social life. The youngsters, superbly played by Sydney Dutton and Paul Thompson, were the centers of romantic interests as well as evil inventive genius.

Others who contributed to the swift, cheerful, surprise situations which tumbled one over another and made the evening a completely satisfying success were

Monitors Take on New Duties

In the short period of a few years, the monitors have become a part of our school, having contributed their services willingly to what is sometimes a thankless job.

This year the monitors took on new duties. They maintained order during fire drills, and at lunch time kept the hungry students' progress down the steps at a safe pace.

We appreciate their work and congratulate them on their efficient handling of the hordes that fill the halls at passing time.

A Job Well Done

Resolved: "That our debaters deserve a vote of credit," should be the topic, not for debate, but for congratulations among students of the high school. Beyond question this year's group of veterans and "rookies" certainly came through eight difficult debates with flying colors.

Handling the topic of "World Government," our affirmative and negative teams had identical records of two wins and two defeats. Losing only by a few points on several occasions, our debaters, coached by Mr. Stephen Kachur, definitely showed a fighting, competitive spirit.

After graduation, Ted Muehlmann, Don Ealy, Nina Butler, and Dolores D'Onofrio, will bid farewell to an organization, which does not call for physical ability but rather for courage and knowledge. They leave with the assurance that those who carry on are experienced and capable of pulling through thick and thin to win for 'ole' M. N. the battle of the mental sticks.

Practice Makes Perfect

Pictured below is this year's Cheerleading squad in a familiar early-morning practice session. Through these gatherings the cheerleaders were able to present to the student body several novel pep rallies and also a squad well-coached and well-captained by Mrs. R. Wade and Betty Ketchledge, respectively.

Starting the year in their old uniforms, the girls were generously given new outfits by the board after the beginning of the basketball season. It certainly knocked your eyes out to see the girls in their bright orange sweaters and flashy black skirts. Their thanks go to the organizations and individuals who made these new outfits possible.

We, at Marple-Newtown, should be proud of our peppy cheerleaders. Other schools of our size can hardly boast of having as grand a group of girls put together and emerging as the big punch behind their teams. So let's continue to back them up and give the support necessary for spurring our teams on to victory!

Orchestra

This year our orchestra, under the capable leadership of our new music instructor, Miss Kahn, has improved a great deal.

They have played at many school activities, including the school play, spring festival, and several assemblies.

Glee Club

The Glee Club, directed by Miss Kahn, accomplished quite a lot this year.

The presentation of the Christmas Carol Service was enjoyed and appreciated by everyone.

The Club participated in an exchange assembly at Media and the Spring Festival, and is preparing to contribute an important part in the Commencement and Baccalaureate Exercises.

Some of the members also sang in the All-Suburban High School Chorus at the Inquirer Music Festival.

Club Resume

The members of the Bridge Club, assisted by Mr. Oselinsky, have discovered that learning how to play cards and actually playing can be loads of fun.

Miss Manlove's Library Club has learned how a good librarian should work.

Able led by Mrs. Graham, the Art Club has made many lovely clay articles, sketches, and paintings.

The Ping Pong Club and Mr. Harvey have become quite skilled at the game and have had several tournaments.

The girls in Mrs. Marlino's Knitting Club have had their hands full, learning to knit, improving their knitting, while making different articles.

M. N. has, not one, but two Dancing Clubs, a Freshman Club led by Mr. Olson and a Senior High Club directed by Mr. Richute.

Mr. Brown's Dramatic Club is ideal for those interested in acting and stage work.

Mr. Sanders has kept the members of his Shop Club busy making many useful as well as ornamental articles from plastics and wood.

Miss Chase and her Boys' Chef Club, have had a lot of fun turning out delicious dishes, to the amazement of the girls.

The Science Club, under the leadership of Mr. Baldelli, has taken some interesting trips and learned much in the field of scientific research.

One of the most active clubs is the Tri-Hi-Y, directed by Miss Yeingst and Miss D'Amelio. The girls went to the Chester Day Nursery with a Christmas party this year, sold Easter eggs as a project to make money, sponsored a Mother and Daughter Banquet, and sold caps and buttons with the school insignia on them.

A new addition to M. N. this year is the boys' Hi-Y, directed by Mr. Kachur. The boys put on a jamboree early in the spring to entertain other Tri-Hi-Y and Hi-Y clubs from neighboring schools.

The girls in the junior high glee club have worked hard with Miss Kahn and they have had fun, too. They sang at the Christmas Concert and took part in the Spring Festival.

Mr. Pittman's Gym Club consists of boys who are especially interested in sports. Teams are pitted against one another and display much muscle and great skill.

Gloria Cronk inherits her curls and peaches-and-cream complexion from "Margie" Stone.

Joan Livingston leaves her many moods and her basketball skill to Joan Lubker.

Jimmy Gausch leaves the corner of Lovell Avenue and Line Road to Bill Wilson and Art Miller.

Her commercial skills and her future as the perfect secretary are left to Norma Earle by Janet Hollis.

Dixie Parks leaves M.N. show business and her dancing feet to Nancy Compton.

Phil Fox is willed by Joe MacLaren the power to study less and to bluff with as much perfection as he has done.

That hidden mischievous nature of Joanie Collins is to be taken over by Ruth van Kanan.

Pat Newby leaves the song of the open road to Harold Snyder and his motorcycle.

The ability to bless others with a little peace and quiet once in a while is left by Barbara Ann Ebersole to Shirley Wallace, who is also willed the petiteness of Emma Jean Plank.

Don "Senator" Ealy leaves to Bing Bortle his soap box and his political philosophy and worries. Long live the filibuster!

For use while knitting Argyles, the following conversation is left by Dolores D'Onofrio to Rosemary D'Ambrosio—"/%$—&&—*-( '*?'"

Syd Dutton wills her chewing gum to Elaine Green and her social security card to Jim Clark.

The morning devotionals in Mr. Harvey's room are left by John Harris to Horton Gettz with the sound advice that it doesn't pay to be out of order after 8:45. To Ray DiBono, John leaves his quick answers in Math.

Her interests in the orchestra, both musical and otherwise, are inherited by Janet Lee from "Milly" Wessel.

To Floyd McCready, Ted Muehlmann wills his sharp sweaters, and to Bob Burns, his many, many, many jokes.

Kay Keenly wills to Ruth Steer her box of Ry-Krisp.

Although Irene Homsher leaves to Grace Blair her everlasting giggle, we feel sure that she will always take it with her.

Nina Butler leaves her Philadelphia night life to Greta Schneider.

Frank Capotosto wills his love for dogs to Fred Reid and his good history marks to Perry Creyaufmiller.

Clyde Broadbelt leaves, with reservation, his quietness to Charlie Mohr. The reservation is for a monitor who has to raise his voice and often does when the people come double-file.

Ralph Shupard leaves his football star to Charlie Jesnig and his football sweater to Doris Downs.

A bunch of worn-out pencils and a set of beautiful history notes are left to Clarice Blocher by Doris Hipple.

Bob Worrell, alias "Admiral," leaves his coon hat to Morris Cressman to wear when hunting.

Violet Aharonian is willed those big brown eyes now so intriguingly blinked by Gladys Michener.

Harry Rambo leaves his love and skill in basketball to Sam Galt.

Barbara Peel, famous sports editor, wills her Mar-News journalism to John Barone-up and coming young reporter.

The Irish wit and sense of humor admired in Mary Reardon are inherited by Bobby Nolan.

To Charlie Hagen, maker of chlorine gas, Rus Schweitzer leaves the Science Field at Marple-Newtown.

Mickie Wood leaves her efficiency to Betsy Phiel—and it will keep you stepping, Betsy.

The girl who could sell an ice-cold coke to an Eskimo, Peggy Parrish, leaves the stand in the care of Barbara Robinson.

Marple-Newtown inherits the masterpieces of John Mackey, and Lee Slavin inherits his pen and ink to carry on the good work.

To Bob McElwee, Don McKee leaves a few movie tickets, so he can write some more good essays on going to the movies.

Helen McLane leaves her spring fever and classroom day-dreams to Harry Robinson.

In witness whereof, we have hereunto subscribed our names and affixed our seals this twenty-first day of June, in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and forty nine.

Pigskin Highlights

Under the capable coaching of Mr. Richute and Mr. Harvey, the M.N. Tigers fought hard against nine rugged opponents. This is the first time in many years we have played more than eight games.

Our team started out well against Mt. Pleasant and ended up by giving Springfield more of a battle than they had expected. During the season, the boys played well and came back to defeat Boothwyn by the score of 24 to 6.

Pat Newby, George Snyder, Ralph Shupard, Connie Fletcher, John Mackey, Bob Young, and others will be lost for next year through graduation. Hopes are high for the 1949 season, since Coach Richute has a strong nucleus remaining.

Snyder Receives Awards

George Snyder, star M.N. end and Co-captain, received the William Prichard Award for the "best lineman" and the Joseph T. Mull-ray Award for the "best all-around player," at the Fifth Annual Banquet given by the M.N. A.C. This year it was held at Wilds' Tea Room, December 7, 1948.

After eating a delicious turkey dinner, the boys heard talks on football from several men in the community and saw the Milton Berle Show on Television. All those who attended had a "swell" time.

Hockey Girls Work Diligently

Forty-five eager girls turned out to start M.N. on her merry way down the field to victory. Cooperation and teamwork combined with a fighting spirit paid off with five victories out of seven starts. Peel and Ketchledge spearheaded the attack to come out as our high scorers.

Those lost by graduation this year are Dolores

D'Onofrio, Anna M. Mahon, Joan Livingston, Betty Ketchledge (captain), Barbara Peel, Doris Hipple, Joan Collins, Dixie Parks, and Carol Sterling.

We offer a vote of thanks to our hard working coach, Reggie Wade, and our manager, Joan Lubker.

Lettermen's Sticks Brought Wins

Our lettermen made an impressive appearance in their new flashy orange and black jackets, and their teamwork was just as impressive. Eight members of the varsity will be lost through graduation.

The Miller-Harvey Award was presented at the Sports Banquet to Betty Ketchledge for hockey and Barbara Peel for basketball.

Varsity Basketball

The basketball team had a fair season this year under Mr. Pittman's able direction. The boys lost several very close games to Sharon Hill and Clifton. Led by Captain Bob Young, our playmaker, and Ed Feldkircher, our high scorer, M.N. won five and lost five to tie for third place in the Suburban Five League.

We opened with Media in the Kiwanis Tournament and lost 44-41 in a very exciting game. The boys played excellent ball during the year.

Mr. Olson's Jayvees also had a fine season, and these boys should help fill in next year when Young, Snyder, and Feldkircher leave.

Feldkircher Cops Scoring Title

Ed "Itchy" Feldkircher, our star 6'2" center, won the Suburban Conference scoring title this year with 228 points for nine Suburban Five games, an average of 25.3 points a game. Feldkircher missed a possible chance of setting a new all-time record for the Suburban Conference when he sprained his ankle just before the last game with Clifton.

The boys who received letters were Capt. Young, Snyder, Feldkircher, Galt, Miller, Parks, Rubino, and Hatton.

Basketball Teams Have Brilliant Season

Mrs. Wade had first roll call for Varsity and J.V. basketball teams early in December. A very enthusiastic group of girls turned out ready to display what ever ability they had. Just before the holiday season, Coach Reggie Wade picked the two teams and with many days of drilling and sweating it out, prepared for better or for worse.

Both Varsity and J.V. turned in a fine job at the end of the season and regretted to see it come to an end.

Loomis. Third row: R. Steer, R. Baldino, A. Rohrer, J. Buzzard, J. Young, P. Harris, N. Dutton, J. Heavens, M. E. Jinkner.

Spirited Lettermen Fight to Victory

Our lettermen turned in a brilliant season with their seven wins and one loss. Barbara Peel, Captain, turned in a high of 140 points. Joan Lubker followed her with 120.

Betty Ketchledge, guard, proudly represented M.N. in winning first team placement on the All-Delaware County girls' basketball team. Barbara Peel and Joan Lubker as forwards won a place on the honorary team.

Mrs. Wade states she will miss her talented seniors, but she is looking forward to molding a winning team next year with Loomis, Lubker, and Scheid as her up-and-coming forwards.

Junior High Football

The Junior High football team, sparked by Elwood Shupard and Donald Atkinson, turned in a fair seasonal record. Shupard, a crushing fullback, was brilliant all year on both offense and defense. His tremendous kicks got us out of a hole many times. Donald Atkinson caught numerous passes during the season and played excellently on defense.

Mr. Pittman, the Junior High coach, looks forward to next year with hopes of another good season.
